Compound-Complex Sentences

A compound-complex sentence is composed of 2 independent clauses and one or more dependent clauses. In another way, think of it as adding dependent clauses to a compound sentence.

Directions: For the upcoming examples, we will create a compound sentence first, and then we shall add a dependent clause to it.

Example 1

Independent Clause 1: My cat could rule the world.

Independent Clause 2: She is too lazy.

Compound: My cat could rule the world, but she is too lazy.

Add a dependent clause.

Dependent Clause 1: Because she is super intelligent.

Final Compound-Complex Sentence: Because she is super intelligent, my cat could rule the world, but she is too lazy.
